Ah, Hawaii. A lush tropical paradise, famous for many things: Magnum P.I., Hawaiian Eye, that TV show starring Jack Lord's hair, and most importantly, the world's largest population of gecko lizards. That's right, geckos. And one family of geckos in particular had a very special problem.

Deep in a valley on Maui lived a gecko family that was just trying to make ends meet. Mom had her paws full raising three and a half kids (their numbers were dependent upon their regenerative powers) while Dad was away doing research for NASA. GEX, the oldest offspring, was a bright lad who would spend his days with his friends, surfing, playing the ukulele and throwing poi parties down on the beach with the local lady lizards.

That all changed, though, the day his mother got a call from NASA telling her the tragic news: The rocket containing Dad and 10 other volunteers, chosen to see if they would eat tapoca pudding in zero gravity, had exploded on the launch pad due to a band-aid floating in one of the fuel tanks. The family's carefree upper middle-class life was shattered!

While the rest of the family dealt with their grief in the usual manner (crying, infighting and rummaging through Dad's stuff), GEX bottled up his feelings. He took refuge in front of the only thing in the house that had always provided him with undemanding comfort: the TV.

GEX found out that in his time of need, all his old and sometimes forgotten friends were still there, ready to take his mind off his troubles. There was Kimba the white lion, eager to take him on an adventure through the African savannas. The Six Million Dollar Man would stop by with a quick bionic pick-me-up. The Partridge Family would play a song, and then shake their heads at the wacky antics of Mr. Reuben Kincaid. These were GEX's true friends, and he was willing to spend the rest of his life in their groovy company.

Try as she might, GEX's mom could not pry her son away from the boob tube. So, after consulting with the family minister and the weird guy at work, she decided it was time for a change of scenery. They were going to leave Hawaii and start a new life in California.

One week later, a moving van pulled up in front of the family's new ranch-style home in Encino, California, surrounded by white picket fences and white supremacists. As the moving men unloaded a crate containing GEX and his beloved TV, his mother exclaimed that she was excited about the family's new beginning. GEX just laughed and told her that was exactly what Maude said to her husband after she went through menopause. GEX was still having trouble dealing with his father's death, but Mom thought she knew just what to do.

That night, the doorbell rang, and a burly older lizard came in carrying a basket of treats. He said his name was Harv and he lived next door and wanted to welcome the new neighbors. As he passed out various chocolate-covered bugs to GEX's siblings, Harv mentioned a little too loudly that he had one spot left on his Saturday All-Pro Girl Watching Team, and was wondering if there was someone around to fill it. GEX told him, from in front of the TV, that Jack Tripper was available, but only if he could get out of the two dates he had made for the same night.

GEX Harv seemed a little confused. He whispered something to Mom, and then took a seat next to the tuned-out gecko. Then Harv asked GEX straight out if he would like to take that spot on the team. GEX replied that he'd love to, but had promised Bosley that he would watch the Angels for him all week. Harv chuckled, and suggested that maybe GEX was watching a little too much TV, and needed to get outside. Without taking his eyes off the set, GEX explained that the last time he had gone outside, his dad blew up, surrounded by gallons of burning tapioca.

Completely out of ideas, Harv bid Mom an exasperated farewell and left. Now what was a concerned mother to do?

The next morning, GEX came running downstairs, expecting to have breakfast with the Banana Splits as usual, when he froze in his tracks. The TV was gone! This must be some kind of joke! Was it out for repairs? Did someone break in and steal it? C'mon, man, this isn't funny! The room began to spin. GEX needed a TV fix—the little suction cups on his hands were beginning to twitch.

WHAT THE HECK WAS GOING ON?

Just then, his mother came in the room. "If you're looking for the TV, I gave it away to some gypsies early this morning," she said. She told him that enough was enough, and he needed to start doing things like a normal gecko. "Go catch some flies, practice walking up walls, enter a tongue-lashing contest! But for cripes sake, stop watching TV!"

GEX couldn't believe this. The one thing in his life that had meaning was gone and his mother was behind it. Exploding with rage, GEX announced that he was never setting foot inside this TV-less house again, and stormed out the front door. Mom ran after him, begging him to stay, but it was too late. She had done the unthinkable, and this was the result.

The next few months were a blur. GEX hooked up with some local punks and spent his days skateboarding to the mall, hanging out in comic stores and blaring music through his Walkman™ on a cliff overlooking the city. He slept in a friend's garage and made pocket money "doing errands" for frustrated housewives. His entire existence became one long, aimless haze, with none of his TV friends around to help out. This seemed to be how he would spend the rest of his life. Or was it?

One day, as he was skateboarding along talking to his invisible buddy, "The Mayor" (life on the streets does things to a gecko), a long black limo pulled up. GEX was about to have His Honor go insult the driver, when the rear window rolled down, and he saw his mother!

Mom told GEX she was so glad to have finally found him, because she had fantastic news! Three days after he had left, GEX's great uncle Charlie had lucked the bucket and left his entire estate to the family. The amazing part was that, unbeknownst to the family, Uncle Charlie was the original model for the "bud" shirt logo. He had invested his meager modeling salary back into company stock. At the time of his passing into the great beyond, Uncle Charlie's estimated worth was over 20 billion dollars! The family was rich!

Shocked out of his mind, GEX jumped up in the air, told The Mayor he had just been unpoached, and hopped into Mom's limo. The hard times were over. He was going to start living life right!

For the next few weeks, the entire family went on a mad spending spree, buying houses, cars, local judges and politicians. Mom purchased 51 percent ownership in NASA, and then fired everybody, sold the rockets to some third world countries, and converted Mission Control into a theme restaurant featuring robotic dancing chumps wearing space suits.

GEX GEX's siblings said they had always wanted to see Australia, so they bought it. GEX, on the other hand, was not into all the cars, jewels and other extravagances. He took his share of the fortune, tucked it into his pants pocket, and went for a walk. He walked and walked and walked, wondering what to do with his share. Then it hit him. He would use the cash to fulfill a longtime dream!

Exactly one hour later, GEX called his mother down at her restaurant, "Space Monkeys," and told her good bye. He was going back to Hawaii. He was going to buy the biggest house on Maui, fill it with the world's largest TV set and enough food for decades, and then seal himself inside. He was going to spend the rest of his life watching all his old TV friends getting into outrageous situations or amazing adventures.

Mom wished him the best of luck, and then ran off to rewire some faulty chimps. GEX hung up the phone and headed out to build his dream.

In a few days, GEX was parked in front of his TV, munching from a nearby bowl of flies. He was in the middle of flipping through channels to see what was on. "Nope, nope, nope," he droned, as he clicked the remote again and again, surfing through reruns of kung fu theater, a wacky cartoon and an old Indiana Jones movie. Those shows were so boring.

He'd already seen all of them at least a million times. He was ready for something different.

Frustrated, GEX started clicking all the remote's buttons rapid fire, speeding through the channels in a super-fast blur. While he was clicking and clicking back, a fly buzzed by. GEX flicked out his tongue and - gulp! - down it went. But the fly was in reality a metallic transmitter. GEX was "bugged."

Suddenly, GEX's remote jammed and the TV blanked. A huge hand shot out of the screen, grabbed GEX by the neck and ZZZZZTTTTTT!

Just like that, GEX had been yanked through his TV into the Media Dimension. The cold claw belonged to Rez, who had hooked GEX with a bugged fly.

Rez was the lord of the Media Dimension. He now intended to make GEX the new network mascot. "Out with the peacock. In with the gecko!"

GEX could only escape by getting his paws on the remote controls hidden throughout the Media Dimension. Once he had the remotes, he could destroy the TV sets that blocked the exits and were the portals into the next worlds. GEX had to find the last remote, blow up the last TV in the last world and make it home... or spend the rest of his gecko life as a bronzed network mascot!

NETWORK MASCOT . . . NOT!

Without knowing it, GEX has been practicing all his life for this gag! He's got that tail whip down, thanks to years of batting pineapples around with his local ball club, the Molokai Scalpers. And how about that tongue lash? Slack, eh? You don't get that good without racking up the hours at the Poi Boy sushi bar, (especially if the sushi's got 8 legs). Jumping, wall crawling, lace stick — GEX's natural talents have been honed by years of hanging out with his lizard pals from Diamond Head. Yep, GEX is ready for the most whacked-out TV episode of his life!

GRAVEYARD WORLD

GEX hurtles through the Media Dimension, back to the time and place when Abbott and Costello met Frankenstein. GEX is caught in a creepy horror flick alive with Franken-geckos, mad slashers, crazy tomatoes and other Fright Night foes. Slime, fog — an exorcism in the offing! Better check your calendar 'cuz you're stuck on Friday the 13th.

KUNG FU WORLD

There's nothing like getting hung up in Channel 26. Fighting your way through morose martial arts scenes is bad enough, but can't they get that voice track in sync? It's Big Trouble in Little China with ninjas, samurai geckos, sumo wrestlers enough is enough. Walk softly, little grasshopper, and whip a last tail!

CARTOON WORLD

Toon Town this ain't! GEX battles cheery characters from crack-of-dawn Saturday a.m. cartoons. Retired heroes and out-of-work 'toon slouchers line up to take a swipe at GEX. There's nothing like getting a safe dropped on your head. Itchy & Scratchy, eat each other's heart out!

JUNGLE WORLD

Go native! Feel the beat of the bongos. GEX stalks through a malaria factory packed with carnivores and cannibals (who like the taste of gecko better than chicken), moving walls, hidden booty traps, and breakaway bridges. You may have named the dog Indy, but there's a gecko with the same hair.

REE'S NERVE CENTER

A world beyond insanity takes center stage. Vast installations of alien hi-tech circuitry lurch with electrical loice! Energy geysers leap from pulsating waves of liquid television. This is the twisted reality where network programs are chosen. At last, GEX confronts Ree himself in a battle that will decide the fate of the universe, and more importantly, whether a gecko will be next season's network mascot!

LIVES

You start with 3 GEX lives. Pick up 100 golden flies, and you'll gain an extra life. Lose all your hit paws and you lose a life. Lose all your lives and you lose the game

Lives

Golden Flies Hit Paws

POWER-UPS

GEX snags balls o' bug to power up with extra weapons, attributes and hit paws. The power-up he's currently using shows up here

GOLDEN FLIES

Who left the door open! Every time you collect 100 golden flies, GEX receives a bonus life

HIT PAWS

You start the game with 3 GEX hit paws. You can gain up to 6 paws by picking up the right power-up. You lose 1 paw per hit (if you have bug power ups, you lose those first, and then you lose hit paws.) Lose all of your paws and you lose a life. Lose all your lives and you lose the game. You know the drill

Power-ups are balls o' bug with juicy gecko snacks inside. You can use them in 2 ways

- ✗ As health power-ups. Smack any bug ball with a tail whip to fill up 1 empty hit paw.
- ✗ Catch power-ups with a tongue lash to gain their powers. Bugs will appear to the left of your hit paws, to show which power-ups you have. You can collect multiple power-ups this way, always using the last one you caught.

Some power-ups take effect right away, others let go with fire balls, ice balls or bolts of electricity when you hurl. Also, some power-ups, like invulnerability, are timed, while others are lost when GEX takes damage

POWER-UP BUGS

SNAPSHOT MILESTONES

Run past a polaroid camera and hit it with a tail whip. The camera will take a snap of GEX.

The snapshot is a milestone. If GEX loses a life, you will return to the level from that milestone spot, instead of having to restart from the beginning.

If GEX loses all his lives, the milestones don't make any difference. You knew that.

RUNNING OUT OF LIVES

Your goal is to get your paws on the remote control hidden somewhere in each world. (On the map screen, press the P Button to bring down the remote, select the remote you want, and press the A Button to go to the next available level.)

You start out with 3 lives. If you take too much damage and lose all your hit paws, you lose 1 of your lives.

When you lose a life, you will restart the level from the beginning. If you lose all lives, including any bonus lives you've collected, the game ends and Rez takes one more step toward bronzing a gecko as the network mascot!

Remember to save your games (up to 3) so you don't always have to start from the beginning (see page 21).

Rez's secret maps of the Media Dimension have fallen into GEX's paws. These are the very same maps that Rez uses to zing around his empire. Now GEX has 'em. So make 'em work for you! They show everything but Liberace's cabana.

To use a map:

1. Move GEX with the Directional Pad to any entrance on the map.
2. Press the A Button to enter that world or world level.
3. Select the VCR to save, load or erase games (see pages 21-22).

HANDLING GAMES

SAVING GAMES

You can save your place in GEX in 2 different ways:

1. Beat the boss at the end of a world, and the game will be automatically saved.
2. Some levels have hidden video tapes that look like a VCR tape. When you find one, it stays with you until you finish the level and return to the world map. Then, the game scales the video tape into the VCR, labeled "Game Saved," and automatically saves the game.

RESUMING & ERASING SAVED GAMES

To resume a saved game, move GEX to the VCR on any world map and press the A Button. You'll go to the Video Deck screen.

- 1 Press the Directional Pad UP/DOWN to select Video Deck 1, 2 or 3, depending on which game you want.
- 2 Press the Directional Pad RIGHT/LEFT to select your action:
 - Play: Load the saved game and begin play from the point where you saved it.
 - Erase: Delete the saved game.
 - Copy: Save your current game to that video deck.

You have room to save up to 3 separate games at the same time. To save additional games, first ERASE games you no longer want to keep.

CLUES

✕ The flying TVs are compliments of Rez. When you whack these aerial bombs with a tail whip, they start a countdown. Don't be in the way when they explode.

✕ Find the special tricks in each world to overcome the tough spots. For example, slap the floating skulls with a tail whip to knock out Rez's TVs.

✕ Move cameras are switches. Activate them with a tail whip to start up some special mechanism. Then look around to see what's changed, for instance, a bridge has fallen into place or a door has opened.

✕ Ride the rafts across shooting geysers. Jump, duck and tail-whip from your safe flotation device, but hang on!

✕ Conveyor belts travel horizontally and vertically. Some are grounded, others float in the air. Stick on them and you'll be whisked away to other places.

✕ The Media Dimension has other surprises in store, such as deadly pools of liquid Rez and secret levels. Find 'em, Dano.

✕ Each world's boss is rough and tough to beat. Each one can be destroyed if you figure out his secret. For instance, it might have to do with something the boss likes to eat or drink.

✕ Find a remote control in each world and whap it with a tail attack to gain ownership. Figure out how to use the remote to escape to the next level.
